THE "JOHN T. THORP MS." (E 16^(a)).

By BRO. WM. JAMES HUGHAN, P.G.D.

EARLY this year Bro. Henry Brown, of Northampton, announced the discovery of a vellum MS. of A.D. 1629, and soon afterwards he kindly sent it to me for examination. Having had the pleasure of tracing many MSS. of the "Old Charges," and of naming several, I had decided to call this valuable document the Henry Brown MS., as it seemed likely that it would remain in his possession, notwithstanding the numerous offers made to him for its purchase, when to my surprise, my esteemed friend and Bro. John T. Thorp, of Leicester, informed me that he had become the owner without any restrictions whatever. I immediately wrote to congratulate him on his prize, and suggested that the manuscript be called after his name, which he at once agreed to. It is to be hoped there will be no further change in its title.

The Roll runs to over eight feet, but the MS. itself really occupies nine feet, as the Scribe, apparently being short of vellum, wrote the concluding portion on the reverse, extending to some nine inches. The width averages about five inches, having a margin at the left of three-quarter inch throughout. It is neatly written and nearly every word is easily read. As to its past history I cannot say anything at present.

Had it been traced prior to Dr. Begemann's Classification of the Old Charges of the British Freemasons (A.Q.C., 1888), it would undoubtedly have given its name to the Family, represented by the "Sloane MS., No. 3848," of A.D. 1646; the latter at the time of publication of that original and able Paper, being the senior of the group. Now, however, the text is dated back some seventeen years, and the "John T. Thorp MS.," is the oldest of the "Sloane Family," as well as of the "Sloane Branch"; the latter including the "J. T. Thorp," the two "Sloanes," "Harleian, No. 2054," "Tunnah," and "Briscoe MSS."

The differences between the two MSS. of A.D. 1629 and A.D. 1646, are such as to preclude the possibility of both having been copies from the same original, though they have much in common; and I think it likely that the prototype of the senior document was the older by some years; the "Charges" in that transcript are not numbered as in the "Sloane," and there are indications which suggest that the text of this important Family may be almost as old as that of the larger one called after the "Grand Lodge MS., No. 1," of A.D. 1583.

Bro. Speth in his concise and interesting introductory remarks to the Transcript and Facsimile of the "Sloane MS., No. 3848," notes for the first time, that there are numerous corrections and interlineations which generally are not in Sankey's hand, but in a neater, slightly more modern handwriting. When I had that MS. published in my "Old Charges" (1872), from a transcript made for me by a distinguished expert, these amendments were not noticed or mentioned, which is to be regretted, as they are of importance, and particularly so now that we have the "Thorp MS." for comparison.

Out of 38 of the corrections or additions, only some three or four are not to be found in the "Thorp MS.," and these are of a trivial character, so that it seems likely that this Roll was before Eduardu Sankey on transcribing what is known as the "Sloane MS." of A.D. 1646, which was copied on the very day and year that Elias Ashmole was initiated (probably for that purpose), as Bro. W. H. Rylands has pointed out. The Scribe, in all probability was a son of Richard Sankey (a Landowner, of Warrington), his age being about 24 at the time. The Father was present at the Lodge when Ashmole and Colonel Mainwaring were initiated, so that although the MS. is a poor one, orthographically considered, it is of considerable interest because presumably read at the famous Masonic reception at Warrington some 250 years ago.

The text of the "Thorp MS." is more correct than the "Sloane" version, either because more carefully transcribed, or the original was more accurate. Under arithmetic the latter has "account and recount all ranner of numbers" (instead of "account and recken"); "Crafts of Iron and Steele" (the former having "Gould Silver Copper Iron and Steele"); and "holy Land" (for "hot land"). The "Thorp" Roll also goes astray as to this, and reads "hole layed." Other peculiarities and errors will easily be discovered on comparing the two documents, but substantially they agree pretty closely from first to last. The Wages in the Roll of A.D. 1629 are cited iiij^s vi^d, however, instead of the usual iiij^s vi^d of that Family; and possibly the clause "a Mason tooke but 1^d d^l a day and meate unto the tyme that St. Albon amended it," in lieu of the usual penny, may mean 1½^d, unless twice written in error.

The "general charges" in "Sloane" are numbered 1 to 7, the 4th and 5th being the reverse of the "Thorp," and the 7th is very brief, having only the clause,

"Alsoe y^t you doe noe vilanie in that house whereby the Craft shall bee slandered."

The 7th (not numbered) of the "Thorp" Scroll is similar to the 7th and 8th of the invaluable "William Watson MS." viz.,

"And alsoe yo^w shall call Masons yo^r fellowes & brethren neither foule name nor yo^w shall not take yo^r fellows wyef in villainy nor desyre ungodlily his daught^r nor his servant to his villayn, & that yo^w pay truly for yo^r table and yo^r meate and drinke where yo^w goe to bord. And alsoe that yo^w do no villany in that howse whereby the Craft may be slandered."

The William Watson MS. (1687) reads

7. You shall call Masons yor fellowes or yor Brethren and by noe other foull name, nor shall yu take yor ffellows wife in villany nor further desire his daughter nor servant.
8. And alsoe yt yu pay truely for yor meate & yor drink where-soever yu goe to boord, alsoe ye shall doe noe villany in ye house whereby ye Craft shall be slandered.

The concluding portion of the Charges is peculiar to the "Thorp MS." and is as follows,

"There shall not any Mason take any prentice excepte the same Mason hath beene p^rntise vij. yeares before, nor the said Mason shall take noe p^rntise but wth the Consent of iiij or vi of his said brethren."

"So helpe yo^w god and hollydome
And by this booke to yo^r power Anno dⁿⁱ 1629."

Every now and then we think "the last MS." has been found, and that we need not continue our researches; but evidently the end is not yet. There is every encouragement to search all likely and unlikely places for old Masonic MSS., for even whilst preparing this brief Introduction to the "Thorp MS.," information has come from Bro. Henry Sadler that the "Henry Heade MS." has been discovered, of A.D. 1675; announced as long missing, in my "Old Charges," of 1895. It is written on paper and is a similar text to the "William Watson MS.," and is now numbered C4 of the "Plot Family."

This Transcript has been made most carefully by Bro. John T. Thorp and may be relied on, and I have compared it with another copy kindly made for me by Bro. John Lane, so it is doubly safeguarded.

worthy that fyndeth all other, Howe that this worthy Science was first begun I shall tell yo^w, Before Noyes⁹ flood was a man that was called Lamech as it is written in the 4th chapter of Genesis And this Lamech had two wyves the one was called Ada & the oth^r Sella by the first wyf Ada hee begotte two — 50 sonns the one was called Jabell & the other Juball And by the oth^r wyf Sella, hee had one sonne & a daught^r And these 4 children found the begiⁿge of all the — crafts in the world This Juball was eld^r sonne & hee found the craft of Geometrie & hee pted¹⁰ flockes of sheepe and lambes in the feild & first wrought house of stone & tree as it is noted in the Chap^r abouesaid —
 And his broth^r Jabell found musicke of songe harpe
 and Orgaine The third broth^r Tuball found smith craft of gould silu^r Copp Iron steele, And there 60 sist^r found the craft of weaving Theis children
 did knowe that god would take vengeance for sine eith^r by fyer or water wherefore they wrote the sciences that they had found in two pillers of stone that they might bee found after the flood the one stone was called marble that would not burne wth fyer The oth^r was Laterus that would not drowne in the water Our intent is to tell yo^w truly & in what mann^r theis stones were found that the
